Latin American Leaders Agree With JFK Aims

U.S. Long-term Aid Program Lauded By Confab Delegates

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Latin-American leaders generally agreed today with the aims of President Kennedy's sweeping program for hemisphere development, but the biggest nations objected to a U.S. call for coordination of economic planning.

With the exception of Cuban economic czar Ernesto Guevara, delegates to the Inter-American Conference lauded the U.S. offer of long-term multibillion-dollar aid to help raise Latin-American living standards.

However, serious objections were expressed to the proposal for a seven-man planning committee of experts to coordinate development programs in the various countries.

Such key nations as Argentina, Chile, Brazil and Mexico have strong reservations about centralizing direction of continental planning. These countries want to plan their own way out of their individual problems and prefer an individual approach, even though the process might take longer.

Argentina, Mexico and Chile indicate they feel they are making significant strides on their own in planning. Brazil, largest of the Latin-American countries, considers itself a case apart, worthy of special treatment.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon outlined the Kennedy program at Monday's session. He pledged the United States to a 10-year development program involving more than a billion dollars a year in U.S. contributions alone to help lift Latin America out of its centuries-old rut of misery and illiteracy.

Dillon offered U.S. guarantees to development loans on a long-term basis "running where appropriate up to 50 years." Most of these loans, Dillon told the delegates, would be "at very low or zero rates of interest." The loans would actually amount to 80 per cent grants and would match or better the terms offered by the Soviet Union in its loans to backward nations.

Dillon warned Latin-America's wealthy landlords they would have to sacrifice many of their traditional privileges if the plan were to succeed. He referred to honest tax structures, surrender of vast landholding rights and other accommodations to the 20th century.

City Stores To Observe Dollar Days

Friday and Saturday will be Dollar Days in Salem.

The Retail Merchants Division of the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce is completing plans for the two-day sale, a tradition of many years' standing and always one of the highlights on the city's merchandising calendar.

District shoppers will find special values in such lines as men's, women's and children's clothing, furniture, jewelry, hardware, dry goods, appliances and many other items, the Retail Merchants point out.

Some merchants have purchased new merchandise to be offered at the sale, and many merchants will be closing out summer stocks.

Shoppers in the past have received Dollar Days here with marked enthusiasm. The city's merchants promise this year's two-day event to be bigger and better than ever.

Water Show Set At Centennial Pool

The annual water show, "Pacific Pantheism," will be held next Tuesday at 9 p.m. at the Centennial Park pool.

If the show is well received, there will be a second show at the same time the following day. There will be no admission charge.

Miss Marilyn Fenton, a life-guard at the pool, has organized routines with a number of girls in the synchronized swimming group.

Tom Dahms and Gordy Scullion are preparing acts in the diving and clown divisions.

SOVIET SPACEMAN RETURNS — Gherman Titov waves to people welcoming him on his return from his cosmic trip aboard space ship Vostok II, according to Tass, the Soviet News agency. No location of place of Titov's landing or welcome was given.

2 Members Disapprove of Some Sections

Charter Dissension Aired at Meeting

Two members of the Salem Charter Commission indicated last night that they feel "no moral obligation" to sign or support the proposed city charter as it now reads.

In taking this position, Michael Schuller and Fred Koenreich took issue with Chairman Lozier Caplan who remarked that he feels all commission members are morally bound to support the charter in the form in which it is finally approved by a majority of the members.

Koenreich remarked that there are "two or three things" in the charter as it now stands which he cannot support. Neither he nor Schuller mentioned during this exchange the specific sections the oppose.

Koenreich did mention later, though, that he is strongly opposed to a section which gives the service director control over all public utilities.

Another section which has drawn criticism is the one which states that "no form of income or payroll tax shall be passed by City Council without the question first having been submitted to a vote of the people and its having been passed upon by the affirmative vote of the majority of the electors voting hereon."

Koenreich and Schuller are not the first Charter Commission members to indicate that they might not support the charter as it now reads. Carl Abe last month made a statement in a City Council meeting that he "would bet 100 to 1 that the charter won't pass as it now reads."

Abe was later rebuked by Caplan who stated, "For any commission member to make a public statement before such charter is completely and finally prepared is out of order and an affront to the services rendered by other members of the commission."

Abe, Koenreich and Schuller are all members of the City Council as well as the Charter Commission.

Coming to the support of Caplan last night were Commission members John Taylor and Atty. Bryce Kendall.

Penny Carnival Set At Reilly Stadium

The second annual city-wide Penny Carnival, conducted by the summer playgrounds under the sponsorship of the Salem Park Commission, will be held Wednesday afternoon and evening at Reilly Stadium.

The carnival will be in operation from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Games, a bake sale and refreshment stands will be operated by the playground children. The children will assemble the stands.

A playground King and Queen will be chosen from children in the 10 to 13-year-old age group. A Prince and Princess will be selected from boys and girls aged 6 to 9. Each of the six playgrounds will have one candidate in each division.

Judy Bichsel is playgrounds supervisor.

Khrushchev's Proposal Draws U.S. Skepticism

State Department Silent On Soviet Fireside Chat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal to "negotiate in an honest way" on Berlin drew generally skeptical reaction from congressional and diplomatic sources.

U.S. experts found little that was new on Khrushchev's plan for Berlin in the Soviet leader's radio-TV speech Monday.

The White House left open the possibility that President Kennedy might comment after a translation can be studied.

The State Department also was officially silent.

U.S. officials, however, still expect the Berlin question to result in negotiations late this year, and not until then do they expect Khrushchev to reveal what concessions he might have in mind.

Once again the Soviet premier said he planned to sign a peace treaty with the Communist East German government.

Also, as he has in the past, Khrushchev denied any intent to "infringe upon any lawful interests of the Western powers" in Berlin.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said that Khrushchev was "more positive than he has been before" in his statement denying plans for a new Berlin blockade.

"I believe he wants to negotiate about Berlin," Fulbright said. "Whether he wants to negotiate on the basis of what is yours is mine is another matter. Nevertheless, I don't see why we cannot take the position that these differences should be discussed."

One problem in any negotiations is that Khrushchev and the Western powers do not agree

JFK Signs New Farm Bill Into Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy signed into law today a new farm program which he called "a major step toward a sound agricultural economy and a better life for the farmers of this country."

Present at the White House signing were leaders of Congress, key men on the Senate and House Agriculture committees, heads of five major farm organizations and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

The new law permits higher farm price supports in return for a 10 per cent cut in wheat acreage a transition next year of the emergency feed grains program; and extension of a number of other farm programs—including surplus disposal and school milk programs—for varying periods of years.

Kennedy said the law will permit expansion of markets, a reduction of the stocks of wheat and feed grains, and a lessening of the burden on taxpayers. Both farmers and consumers, he said, will benefit from extension of marketing orders to more commodities.

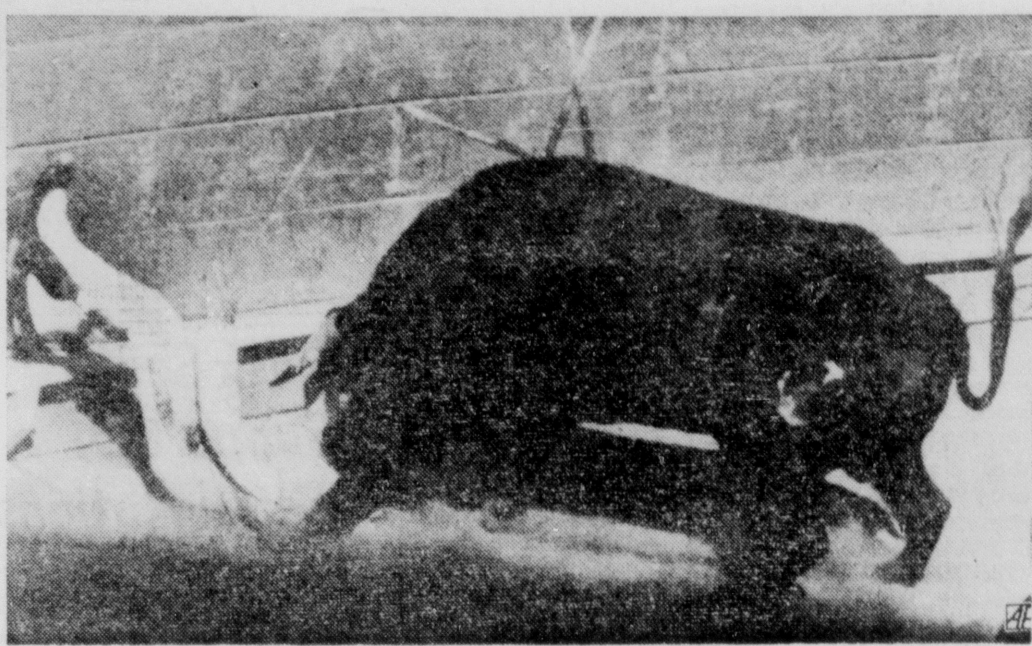

He mentioned also the possibilities for enlarging markets for American farm products overseas and for expanding the school milk program at home.

BLAZE IS EXTINGUISHED

LISBON — No damage was reported in a fire at 10:10 p.m. Monday at the rear of 130 E. Lincoln Way, according to volunteer firemen.

Pressman Dave Williams, working at the Lisbon Journal office, noticed the fire and he and several other employees had the fire almost under control when firemen arrived.

Polio Campaign Head Named

E. Liverpool Man To Direct Drive

County Recorder Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool will be county chairman for the 1962 March of Dimes campaign.

His appointment was announced today by E. Allan McKeever, chairman of the Columbiana County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

McKeever said Brian will handle the annual drive in January as chairman. In the last few years, Brian served as chairman for the southern area of the county along with a co-chairman to handle the northern half, he explained.

Brian will select chairmen to handle the campaign in the various communities in the county, McKeever continued, explain in the "new" Dimes campaign includes funds for research into arthritis and birth defects.

A total of $13,735 was raised in the county in this year's campaign, McKeever said.

No polio cases have been recorded in the county so far this year, he said, but warned that polio still is not licked until everyone receives the necessary immunization.

Three mild cases were listed in 1960, but the county unit still is providing care for some 30 patients stricken with the disease. Four counties have been completely paralyzed by the disease although not all still are being cared for with funds provided by the county unit.

As the number of polio cases decreases, the foundation is turning toward seeking the cause and remedies for arthritis and birth defects. New centers to study birth defects have been opened in

Grand Jury Indicts Plane Hijackers

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Two Arizonians today were described as quiet, cooperative prisoners with healthy appetites "although they face possible life imprisonment after a thwarted attempt to deliver a Continental Airlines jet, its crew and hostage passengers to Cuba."

Leon Bearden, 38, and his son, Cody, 16, kept in separate cells in the county jail here, showed little emotion as they received copies of the indictment handed down Monday by a federal grand jury.

The indictment charged the Beardens, of Coolidge, Ariz., with kidnapping members of the plane's crew and transporting the aircraft, crew and hostages across state lines. They will be arraigned in U.S. District Court at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

The prisoners were not allowed to talk with newsmen but jailers said they had no trouble with the Beardens. They said neither the father nor son had any conversation except with investigating officers.

Held on $100,000 bond each, they probably will be brought to trial soon after Labor Day.

39 Candidates File As Deadline Draws Near

With the filing deadline Wednesday at 4 p.m., a last-minute rush was under way at the County Election Board headquarters in East Liverpool as non-partisan candidates for village, township and school district posts sought to qualify for the Nov. 7 general election.

Thirty-nine candidates filed Monday, boosting the total to 204, Clerk Frank R. O'Hanlon said.

The new candidates entering yesterday included a complete slate from New Waterford, along with filings for Rogers, Salineville and Hanover township village posts, clerk and trustee posts in nine townships and three school boards.

The New Waterford slate is headed by William E. Ferguson for mayor.

Edward R. Bretz filed for clerk-treasurer, with Carl J. Bretz, Gilbert J. Mackall, Howard Webber, Joseph J. Fittante, Glen Seachrist and Daniel J. Percy entering for Council. Robert Myers, Robert George and Frank Colella filed for the Board of Public Affairs.

Others filing for village posts were Donald E. Lewis and John C. Beadnell for Salineville Council; Robert E. McCreary for mayor or George W. Long for Council in Rogers; and Lee E. Bowman for clerk and John Lindesmith and Melvin McKarns for Council in Hanover.

Two more candidates also entered for clerk in Liverpool Township, the only township in the county which will elect a clerk this year. They are Paul D. Cunningham and William A. Garren. Simon I. Hall, veteran clerk, filed for a new term last week.

The school board candidates include Mary Elizabeth Rhodes for a seat on the Southern Local Board; C. William McCowin and Ralph D. Lemley for East Palestine posts; Frank Clark for a Franklin Local seat, and Mrs. Ruby Lacey for the East Liverpool board.

Car Brake Failure Causes Accident

Mrs. Nellie Mae Hutter, 39, of 591 Wisconsin St. escaped unhurt when her car brakes failed and she rammed into the rear of a parked car and knocked over a double parking meter in front of 521 E. State St. at 9:12 a.m. today.

Mrs. Hutter, traveling east on E. State St., attempted to pull into a parking space but was unable to stop due to complete brake failure, police reported.

The left front end of her car was damaged. The parked car which she struck also was damaged. It is owned by Michael E. Kozar, 45, of 861 New Garden.

The double parking meter was demolished, police said.

Red Premier Holds Firm On E. German Pact

Warns That Russian Reserves May Also Be Called For Duty

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev called Monday night for East-West negotiations on Germany but held to his demand for a peace treaty with Communist East Germany and East German control of the West's access routes to Berlin.

In an 85-minute radio-TV speech delivered against the background of Soviet Maj. Gherman S. Titov's successful earth-orbiting space flight, Khrushchev accused the West of pushing the world toward war over Berlin. He threatened in turn an accelerated buildup of the Soviet military strength.

"It may be that we shall have to increase in the future the numerical strength of the army on the Western frontiers by moving divisions from other parts of the Soviet Union," he said.

"In connection with this, we may have to call up a part of the reservists so that our divisions will have a full complement and be ready for any eventuality."

He called these "reply measures" to President Kennedy, who on July 25 pledged to defend West Berlin, and called for 217,000 additional men for the U.S. armed forces.

Kennedy's speech was a response to Khrushchev's threats at their Vienna meeting the month before that Moscow would end allied occupation rights in West Berlin by the end of the year through a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

In his speech Khrushchev told the United States, Britain and France: "Let's sit down around

50 More Blood Donors Needed Here

Fifty more donors are needed to assure the 125-pint quota when the Cleveland regional bloodmobile visits Salem Thursday, according to Louis Raymond, chairman of the North Columbiana County Red Cross blood program.

The unit will be located at St. Paul's School auditorium from noon until 6 p.m. Raymond reports there are 10 places to be filled between 12:30 and 1 p.m. and seven places for the 4:45 p.m. hour. He also urged that all appointments be kept.

The following blood replacement policies have been received from Ralph DeLucco, administrative director of the Cleveland Regional blood center: "A person working in an industry within our chapter jurisdiction, but living outside the chapter territory is eligible for blood coverage as is his family, however, he must be a donor at least once a year. If he is unable to donate blood, then directed donations from residents of the chapter's territory may be made."

"Directed donations may be accepted for non-residents of our region, provided the donors are residents of our region and the donations are made after blood has been used and are designated for the patient at time of donation. Requests for blood replacements, based on directed donations, must contain the donor's name, address and date of donation and the patient's name and address and date of transfusion."

"A person living in a non-participating chapter may not direct his donation in behalf of a blood recipient who lives in a non-participating chapter, regardless of where he is hospitalized."

Season Cancelled Over Labor Dispute

Music Lovers Somber After Metropolitan Opera Closing

NEW YORK (AP) — Music lovers reacted in somber tones to the announced closing of the Metropolitan Opera for the 1961-62 season and the cancellation of the Met's annual spring tour.

Words like "disgrace" and "irreparable blow" came from some of the world's greatest opera singers. One appealed directly to President Kennedy to help settle the labor dispute which the Met blamed for the closing.

More optimistic patrons of the arts recalled, however, that two other announced cancellations in

The Kiwanis Club will hold its annual family picnic at Centennial Park Thursday at 6:15 p.m. Today is the deadline for reservations.

The club's weekly luncheon meeting will not be held, but a roundtable is planned Thursday noon at the Lake Hotel for those unable to attend the picnic.

MISHAP CLAIMS 2ND VICTIM

NEW LEXINGTON, Ohio (AP) — A second life has been claimed in a one-car accident in which the vehicle literally flew 42 feet through the air. Paul L. Snyder, 23, of nearby Corning, Rt. 1, died Monday seven hours after the Sunday night crash which instantly killed the driver, John B. Brunton, 22, of Columbus.

The overo Pinto horse has white patches which seem to originate from the underside and work upward. The tobiano strain's more sharply defined white areas extend downward from the back and the head is usually dark.

recent years never went into effect. Labor troubles, blamed then too, were subsequently ironed out.

In making the announcement Monday, Met General Manager Rudolph Bing said "I see no hope" of saving the 1961-62 season. He was gloomy about prospects for the 1962-63 season.

The crux of the situation is that since July 30 the top stars and even the lesser ones have been free to make other commitments.

"We cannot have a season without these singers," Bing said, adding that as many as two dozen of the more than 100 artists on the roster "already have been lost."

In all, nearly 700 employees — including singers, musicians, the chorus, the ballet, the administrative and technical staffs and backstage workers — are affected.

Bing, calling the cancellation a "catastrophe," blamed Local 802 of the American Federation of Musicians, saying it had demanded a weekly salary for musicians of $248 for six performances plus other benefits, as against last season's rate of $170.13 for seven performances.

An official statement from the Met said the demands would have added $750,000 to the Met's prospective deficit, which last season hit $840,000 before contributions.

The Met has reached agreement with 14 other unions.

A spokesman for the Musicians' Union said: "The Met has presented its side. We want to study its statement very carefully. We will then present to the public our side of the story. We ask everyone to suspend judgment until then."

Man Seeks to Save Wild Elephant Herd

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — A retired surgeon is trying to save the remnants of a rampaging herd of wild elephants before irate planters shoot them.

The beasts, driven to destructive fury by the inroads of civilization which cut off their jungle retreat, have been uprooting coconut trees and trampling down acres of crops.

Only 14 survive from the original herd of about 87. Planters shot most of the others in an effort to preserve their coconut groves and rice paddies.

"The rest will probably be killed unless we can get them to sanctuary," said Dr. Richard L. Spittel, head of a committee trying to raise funds to save the elephants.

Spittel's committee has conceived an elaborate plan to drive the elephants to Wilpattu National Park 17 miles from their jungle retreat by the Dederu River, 50 miles north of Colombo.

Hundreds of volunteers and Red Cross workers equipped with firecrackers and walkie-talkie radios will take part in the roundup.

Ceylon's elephant population has dropped from countless thousands to only about one thousand, said Spittel. The survivors must be kept in their natural habitat or the breed will become extinct since elephants refuse to breed in captivity, he said.

BEEKEEPERS TOUR PLANT

Twenty-five members of the Columbiana County Beekeepers Assn. toured the A. I. Root Co. in Medina Saturday, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture. The Root Company is the supply source for local beekeepers.

The event was planned by the County Beekeepers Assn. and the county extension office.

Brooks was formerly vice-president-finance, Schine Enterprises, Inc., New York. He is a graduate of Dartmouth College.

Rusk Seeks Support Of Small Nations

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk goes to the Atlantic alliance today with a plea for support from the smaller nations in case of a showdown with the Soviet Union over Germany and West Berlin.

Rusk was to report to the permanent council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—NATO—on his weekend conference with British Foreign Secretary Lord Home, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

NATO's other senior partners delegated Rusk to urge that the alliance's European shield forces be brought up to full strength by addition of 75,000 to 80,000 men, plus weapons, equipment and transport.

Rusk also was to inform the other allies of the Big Four ministers' agreement to a series of political, economic and if necessary military moves to parry the Soviet squeeze on West Berlin.

Officials in all Western capitals were studying Soviet Premier Khrushchev's radio - television speech Monday night in which Khrushchev called for negotiations on Berlin and Germany, reaffirmed the previous Soviet position without any hint of retreat and warned that the Soviets, too, may add to their troop strength.

The Western ministers at their weekend meeting already had said they were open to negotiations with the Soviets, but on a "reasonable basis" devoid of threats and abuse.

Schools Get $226 362 From Railroad Taxes

Columbiana County schools received $226,362 from the $322,720 which railroads paid to the county in 1960 property taxes, it was reported today by J. D. Henry, chairman of the Railroad Community Service Committee of Cleveland.

Henry, quoting figures recently compiled by the industry in Ohio, said railroads paid a total of $22,753,372 in property taxes in the state last year.

"Of this total, $14,760,156 was distributed to public schools on a state-wide basis," he added.

THIRTY-DAY FORECAST — These maps, based on those supplied by the U.S. Weather Bureau, indicate the expected precipitation and temperature for the next 30 days.

Friends Review Progress As 149th Yearly Meeting Nears

A review of the history and progress of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends was issued today by Friends leaders in conjunction with the 149th session of the Yearly Meeting to be held in Damascus Aug. 21-27.

Ohio Yearly Meeting is one of several Yearly Meetings of Friends in America.

Friends came to this country about the middle of the 17th century, and many of them suffered for their convictions. Some were martyred; some were accused of witchcraft. But the spirit of the martyrs caused many to rise and forward the cause of Christ through Quakerism.

During the last half century the Yearly Meeting has seen gradual growth, new churches and an increasing interest in home and foreign missions.

The present outlook is good for Friends in 1961-2. Many of the established churches have either built new or made substantial additions to their plants.

In the department of 'Extension', the Yearly Meeting has been able to enter new fields and in some places has built new church buildings, while in other places worship is carried on in either rented or purchased buildings.

Within the past year two new church groups have come into membership with Ohio Yearly Meeting. The Evangelistic Center of Struthers reorganized as a member church with Ohio Friends under the name of Bethel Friends. This group, uniting with the East Lewistown Friends Church, is now planning a new church building in the Poland area which will be built somewhat along the lines of the new building on Franklin Ave., known as the Southeast Friends Church.

Another group recently came into membership with Ohio Yearly Meeting is The Pilgrim Church of Mansfield, Ohio.

In the field of education Ohio Friends are just now stepping over the threshold. Malone College of Canton, formerly Cleveland Bible College, has just been raised to a Liberal Arts College level, with a student body of approximately 600 students. Dr. E. L. Catell, president, and the other members of the faculty are presenting education on the college level with a definite religious note.

In all the churches of the Yearly Meeting there is a decided effort to make Sunday School a definite means to greater distribution of the gospel message. The Sunday Schools are growing, with some showing outstanding records of increase. In the work of foreign missions also, Friends have kept pace with the cry for help from over seas.

Pfc. Andrew M. Burt

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew G. Burt of RD 4, Salem have received the following address for their son: Pfc. Andrew M. Burt, HQ Co., 1st BG, 32nd Inf., APO 7, San Francisco, Calif. He entered the Army in September, 1960, and received his basic training at Fort Benning, Ga.

Capt. John F. Eckhardt of Columbiana, officer of the 75th "Blue Tiger" Troop Carrier Squadron, and five other Columbiana residents will be stationed at Clinton County Air Force Base in Wilmington, in a prelude to one of the biggest Army exercises since World War II.

The other local members are: T. Sgt. Raymond B. Smith, S. Sgt. Wilbur G. Beck, A2C Clement R. Ross, A2C Robert Whitehead and A3C James B. Curry.

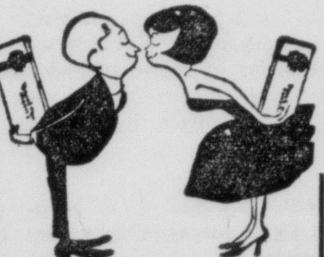

Ground support elements of the unit will remain at Wilmington to train, but the unit's aircraft, crews, and operational support left Sunday for Bush Field, at Augusta, Ga., where they will participate in "Operation Swift Strike" the largest peace time military maneuver since the Louisiana maneuvers of 1941.

Pvt. James Joy is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Joy of 644 W. Pershing St., after finishing the basic eight-week course at Fort Knox, Ky. He will report for technical training Aug. 15 in Georgia.

Five Workers Killed At Missile Site

DENVER (AP)—A 58-ton steel and concrete door atop a Titan missile launching silo slammed shut with an earth-shaking crash, killing five workmen and injuring eight others Monday.

Three bodies were recovered. Two others were pinned between the door and the edge of the huge silo. A spokesman at Buckley Field, scene of the tragedy 15 miles west of Denver, said "it may be as long as 72 hours before the door can be raised."

"It presents considerable of an engineering problem," said a spokesman for one of the civilian contractors on the $160-million construction job.

Buckley Field identified two of the dead as Jerry E. Barncio of Denver and George Graham of nearby Aurora.

Only two of the injured men were hospitalized, Charles W. Postle, 42, of nearby Aurora and Howard Hoffman, 56, of Littleton, Colo. The others were treated and released. Postle suffered a broken back.

Witnesses said some of those who were injured leaped into safety nets placed at intervals in the 165-foot silo.

The massive door was one of a pair which are raised hydraulically as a missile rides to the surface.

A spokesman at the missile complex said either a hydraulic failure or failure of a retaining cable caused the door to crash. It cracked and split with a tremendous roar.

The prime contractor, Morrison-Knudson & Associates of Boise, Idaho, formally turned the missile complex over to military control last week.

Most heavy construction has been completed, but the Air Force

Gospel According To St. Nik

Those who have the time to read through the text of the socialist gospel according to Saint Nikita — the newest Communist manifesto — find this question waiting at the end. The question is in their minds, not the text.

What has been omitted that should have been included?

What is missing in Khrushchev's revised version of the Marxist-Engels-Lenin doctrine of a politically automated society?

The answer is as obvious as the omission of Stalin's name in the Khrushchev revision. The dictator who followed Lenin and preceded the shuffle that carried Khrushchev to the top job in the Kremlin has been elbowed out of the gallery of socialist heroes. And that is what has been left out of the Khrushchev version of socialist gospel.

He and his apostles regard socialism as the inevitable result of a mechanistic process whose outcome can be foretold by an absolute formula of economic determinism.

They can rant on interminably — and do — about the theory of socialism, but they never peep about its fallacy.

THE FALLACY IS the simple fact human beings do not live by theory but by impulse. Russian socialists have been in each other's hair since they were nothing more than theorists, themselves. When they finally became administrators they set about the bloody job of carving up one another and are still engrossed in it. They never will finish, for the good and sufficient reason that absolutists never get rid of their last enemy or their last obstacle.

The world and the human beings who live in it weren't made to suit the specifications of absolutists.

When Stalin was preaching his gospel of socialism, it was one way. It was another way, briefly, when Malenkov was the giver of the faith. Now it's another way under Nikita Khrushchev, and one day he will join all previous dissenters in whatever limbo awaits human beings who believe absolutely in themselves and absolutely in nothing else.

No doctrine lends itself to formalizing like socialism. Marx saw the world of his time in black and white, as did Engels, but Marx never would recognize the world that exists today, because it isn't the world he was prescribing for. He would have nothing in common with socialism as practiced in modern Russia or modern England.

IT IS A safe prediction that Khrushchev would not be able to identify himself with socialism in another century. It will have accommodated itself to the nature of man, in the same way that capitalism has been made to accommodate itself to the nature of man. But capitalism does not pretend to be absolute.

It is not systems that mold men. It is men who mold systems. They use ideas that work and reject ideas that don't work. Human determination, not economic determinism, makes the difference.

Yet not a word is said in the long-winded text of Communist gospel according to Saint Nikita about the mind of man. Humanity is regarded as a lump of protoplasm that will react according to a theory based on economics.

That isn't the way humanity behaves. It is not as simple and predictable as the dogs of the famous Russian, Ivan Petrovich Pavlov, who invented brain-washing.

HUMAN REACTIONS are relative, not absolute. Sooner, or later, a contrary-minded Communist, perhaps one named Mao, or Tito, balks and veers. Or one named Josef or Nikita claims he has become the sole trustee of the faith and it becomes necessary to shove false prophets into oblivion.

Under capitalism, which no one has tried to define since Adam Smith's time, you can't tell the players even with a program any more, which is turning out to be capitalism's saving grace. Nothing is stated absolutely. It all depends on how things work out in practice, and that all depends, in turn, on human nature.

Mr. Murphy Makes A Declaration

As all of us learned at the tour director's knee when we were children, policemen in New York City are the "finest." They have needed to be, to withstand the corruptionists, hoodlums, crime syndicalists, racketeers and political agitators who have tried tirelessly to thwart them.

Now there is a new foe—the citizen. "The police cannot fight crime and the public at the same time," declared Michael J. Murphy, New York police commissioner at a police ceremony recently. He recounted that 1,780 policemen had been attacked

Versatile 4-H'ers

The recent Achievement and Selection Days programs of our versatile 4-H club youngsters again brought proof positive that these boys and girls in the rural sectors are gaining knowledge and craftsmanship that will make them better citizens in the future.

Not all the public had the opportunity to observe the craft work of the 4-H'ers in the annual demonstrations but most will be exhibited during the Columbiana and Mahoning County Fairs to be held within the next month. Their displays alone make the fairs worth attending.

Once Over

With President Kennedy deploring softness and urging tougher men, the recent five-day Siberian exile of a baseball manager for bumping an umpire in heat of a pennant race seems curious. Maybe we need a statement of national policy on bumping.

If there is one thing most Americans are used to, it is getting bumped. The pace is so swift that "freedom of the bump" is generally accepted. Umpires used to expect it and even train for it.

Today, however, the baseball chiefs require that umpires regard a bumping as something that can even be carried to NATO, the U.N. Security Council and Geneva Summits.

Even if the "ump" doesn't mind a bump he is compelled to regard it as warlike as a border-crossing or a general mobilization order.

The baseball manager is Ralph Houk of the Yankees, an ex-marine and decorated war hero, and if such a man can't be excused for hearing bugles, drums and cries of "Over the top!" when he thinks he is losing in enemy action, it's especially odd. Houk didn't come up in a school that classified a bumping as major aggressiveness and inexcusable violence.

The league series in which the "crime" occurred was so dull the fans welcomed bumping. They even favored the "retaliatory bump" by umpires, and the counter-attack-with-pursuit bump.

The Houk bump was the most exciting event in the game. Modern baseball needs something of the storm and fury once expected between umpires and players.

Most "umps" are well able to take care of themselves and can outbump the players and managers. They don't need bumpers front or rear.

Less indignation over bumpings, please. It's bad for the Washington less-softness-and-more-toughness policy.

TWO NEW TOP MEN of General Electric are Gerald Phillippe and Cramer La Pierre. Does this mean French lines in the design of electric iceboxes?

Del Webb, co-owner of the Yanks, has taken as his bride a millinery buyer. Here is one man who had better not criticize the wife's hats.

Maybe those candidates for medical licenses, who were in a $10,000 bribe plot to get the exams in advance, wanted everything in the medicine "bag."

Hotels in many cities, including New York, are eliminating lobby and lounge accommodations, once a "must" for guests. We have been surprised to find several big Gotham hotels, where lobbies, once replete with cozy chairs, sofas and other contributions to comfort, have been turned into bare, bleak, quite unfurnished vast open spaces, a cross between railroad stations and skating rinks.

Idea was to get rid of the floaters, non-guests who just killed time, but what about the cash customers who like to sit down now and then?

Mayor Wagner of New York is currently being blamed in scandal over lack of repairs, improvements, etc., in public schools and in other city institutions. Hizzoner doesn't seem to realize that the "follow-up" system, for centuries a natural routine, is needed on all levels today as never before, because of three things: (1) Loss in pride of workmanship (2) Goldbricking all along the line (3) Complete failure of foremen, inspectors, supervisors to do their job with old time forcefulness.

Cinderella

The Soviet Myth

By VICTOR RIESEL

ANKARA Some day soon the night whistles of Ankara will be as famed as the bouncing boys of Dusseldorf and the gondolas of Venice. These wailing whistles sometimes like short dog barks, at the signals of the special night patrol to the police.

These night watchmen have no call-in boxes, no phones — for while there is modernity all about us there is no doubt that we are also in the western tip of still undeveloped Asia.

There is so little wiring, in fact, that to get a phone call through to the rest of the Near East or the Middle East you must first call London and talk via that route. Only now is a direct phone link being built.

THIS IS A LAND of many frustrations for the "new" Turkish people.

There are buildings with elevator shafts but no elevators. There are buildings in which the electric light goes off automatically after you turn it on to light a dark stairwell — the light being lit just long enough to allow you to run down the stairs.

There are elevators which take you up, but not down. There are days when electric power suddenly cuts off — and water supply as well.

All this angers the young Turks, the brilliant university students, the impatient men who want to modernize this land. For Turkey is extremely vital to the defense of Broadway, Market Street, Main Street and right on through to the Pacific Palisades.

Why should I be talking of whistles and frustrations at a time like this? Because the Russians are discussing them, that's why. It's the only chance the Soviets have to win some support in this land.

They, in their way get word to the students to defy the martial law of the utterly democratic military regime of Gen. Gursel.

The Soviet propagandists win some sympathy over tea in the coffee houses when they say, "Just look at what we have done in the USSR in 40 years and look at how little industrialization, modernization and improvement of living standards there has been in Turkey in the same period."

This is the only argument which makes any impression on the students and the university people, who have so much influence in this land.

Turkey truly is our own frontier in an overwhelming fashion. I'm not permitted even to hint at what we and the Turkish military have set up here to observe the Russians.

THUS THE SOVIET propaganda — Chairman Khrushchev's personal hard sell — to impress the world with alleged Soviet accomplishments becomes one of its most potent weapons against us. As CIA chief Allan Dulles put it recently:

"Khrushchev recognizes that the United States is the most highly developed economic power in the world. However he claims that with the Soviet's higher annual rate of growth they will catch up with us in the next 10 to 15 years.

"Such boasts are an exaggeration. But this does not prevent his peddling them on a worldwide basis. Nor do these boasts fail to impress the underdeveloped and nonindustrial nations who see the great strides which the Soviet has made over a few decades."

The Soviets never miss a trick selling these strides — though they are 30 to 40 years behind us.

FOR EXAMPLE, up in Kars along the Soviet frontier I was told by Muhlis Babaglu, permanent undersecretary of the Turkish Home Office (sort of ministry of justice, security, and national police) that the Russians had recently pulled back their watch towers and barbed wire fencing some 20 kilometers.

When the regional Turkish governor went out to see what had happened, he noted what appeared to be a fine, almost luxurious, small village. Then one of his soldiers pointed out that the Russian houses looked fine but they had no chimneys.

In other words they were fake, just fronts, such as the movie set makers erect. The Russians had wanted to impress the Turks.

The fact is that too many of us perpetuate the Russian legend of productive success. There is sur-posed to be a six per cent per annum growth inside Russia — twice ours. Actually the growth average over the past four decades has been 1.2 per cent a year.

IN FACT, there is evidence here that the Russians are in internal chaos. Their nonmilitary distributive system has broken down so that millions of tons of food and vegetables rot before getting to the big cities.

In these big Soviet communities there is so little in the way of consumer goods — or even any nonmilitary industrial goods — that vast black markets exist. This has never before been reported in the U.S.

In Leningrad, for example, the vast black market, as in other cities is institutionalized. There it is called a "second hand goods market." But it is simply a huge open lot where stuff brought in by sailors and tourists is sold.

In Lvov, the black market is called the "Field of Cunning." Without hundreds of these "flea markets" the Russian people would live barren, subsistence lives.

Why don't we tell these stories? Why do we perpetuate the myth of Soviet superiority? Do we want to lose the young people of the underdeveloped world?

Shall the United States, a land which is the symbol of salesmanship, lose because we permit N. S. Khrushchev to become the world's strongest salesman?

Seeds of War

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Vengeful Feeling Could Motivate Crisis

IN EUROPE

What causes wars? What was the public passion that helped to cause World War I in 1914 and World War II in 1939? Curiously enough, the latest Soviet note to the United States government raises unwittingly the very point that could someday give motivation to World War III.

Underlying the public opinion of France in 1914 was a spirit of revenge aroused by the seizure of its Alsace-Lorraine provinces when German armies triumphed in 1870. A vengeful feeling kept building up in France for generations thereafter.

Likewise, in 1929, the same spirit of revenge had festered for 20 years inside Germany over the terms imposed after its defeat in 1918. It was this that gave Hitler his chance to rally an embittered people.

Today the Soviet government apparently is not yet aware of what the spirit of revenge can do inside a defeated nation for the latest Soviet note uses at least a half-dozen times the French word for revenge, "revanche" in seeking to bolster an argument that really should be turned around.

Wouldn't a divided Germany give the German people in the next several years a constant reminder of their defeat and keep burning the fires of revenge against Russia? France, in contrast, does not fear West Germany but is actually forming an economic and political union with the free government at Bonn.

The Soviet note, however, points out that "militarists and revanchists are again growing strong in West Germany," and then adds: "Before everybody's eyes, West Germany is becoming a seat of war danger in Europe. . . . The Bundeswehr (militia) is being trained as an army being formed and designed to wage a rocket-nuclear war. . . . the work of scientific-technical thought conducted in the quiet of studies and laboratories has been placed at the service of the Bundeswehr. But it is general knowledge that in our times some laboratories are much more dangerous than military barracks. . . .

"If we multiply the military-material bases of the federal republic of Germany by the militarist and revanchist spirit which, like a quarter of a century ago, permeates all spheres of the state and public life, the gravest danger of the danger created by the present developments in the Federal Republic of Germany will become self evident. The population of West Germany lives in an atmosphere of rampant revanchist passions."

THE SOVIET UNION overlooks entirely the deep-seated feeling which arises within any patriotic people when 17 million persons of the same flesh and blood are kept in bondage by a foreign government.

All the sympathy which the Soviets profess to have for the colonial peoples in Africa and Asia seems hypocritical when the feelings of a civilized and efficient people like those in Germany are disregarded as they yearn for the restoration of their homeland.

Instead, the Soviet note now attempts to justify a perpetuation of the division of the German people by claiming that East and West Germany are already two different nations—one Communist and the other capitalistic. The note says on this point:

"(They the two Germans) are separated by deep differences in the internal way of life, in other words, by deep-going social differences."

"To try and counterpoise the slogan of self determination to the struggle inside a nation for social progress means to juggle with concepts. If we are to speak of the social system, and this is precisely the matter to be discussed, in connection with the formation of two independent states instead of former Germany, both these states have long since made their choice."

Who made the "choice" for them? The Soviet Union stands convicted before the world of having given in our times the biggest single impetus to "revanchism"—the spirit of revenge against Russia — that modern history can record.

The technical and legal points which the Soviet Union offers also as a justification for a separate peace treaty are plainly inaccurate.

SEPARATE PEACE treaties, to be sure, are not in themselves unknown in history because the existence of varying conditions has always been recognized among belligerents. But rarely have a set of allies countenanced or acquiesced in a separate treaty which puts a substantial part of the vanquished territory into the hands of a conquering ally without first obtaining the consent of the victorious partners in the war.

Unfortunately, in this instance, the signing of a separate peace treaty with East Germany would prolong, in effect, a wartime occupation and continue the domination of 17 million German people by a foreign government.

It would attempt to cram down their throats a way of living which denies them a voice in their own government or in the kind of economic system under which they would prefer to live.

The situation indeed may someday be ripened for another dictatorship to count on rallying this very patriotic feeling to start a war of revenge against Russia.

It would be far better to give the West German republic the opportunity to foster and develop in East Germany the spirit of democracy and freedom which the Bonn government has instilled in the people of West Germany since 1945. This is the best way to build a bridge of friendship and peace across the borders between Germany and the Russian bloc, so many of whose members would likewise appreciate a chance for self-determination and a truly democratic system of government.

Well, thus we play the fools with the time, and the spirits of the wise sit in the clouds and mock us.—Shakespeare.

One sole God; One sole ruler—His Law; One sole interpreter of that law—Humanity. — Giuseppe Mazzini.

Matter of Fact

Timing of a stolen base makes the attempt precarious. From pitcher to home plate, the ball is in flight half a second. The throw from home to second base takes 1½ seconds. A run can't be made in less than three seconds. So, in normal circumstances, the stopwatch is against the runner.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a practical nurse for a widower about 55. I do the light housework, the cooking and give him his medicine. He was in an industrial accident three months ago.

At first my patient was very pleasant but now that his health is improving he's getting too frisky. I'm 28 and happily married to a nice fellow. If he knew how this old gaffer limped after me he'd make me quit.

The company my patient works for pays him full salary all the time he is recuperating. They also pay me, and, I might add, they pay me well.

I love my work and this assignment is ideal because the man lives close to our apartment. I'd hate to quit, but now that he's getting stronger I don't know how much longer I can manage him.—S.L.

Dear S.L.: Tell the old gaffer that a guy who is well enough to chase the nurse is well enough to go back to work and if he doesn't behave himself you'll phone his boss and tell him so.

When you make your position clear he'll simmer down.

Rocky Romance

Dear Ann: I've been going with this fellow for two years. We get along well together. Our only problem is interference from his family. Please tell me if you think I'm being silly about this one thing:

We plan to be engaged on my birthday. Clyde wants to give me a large diamond that belongs to his mother. I don't want it. I've told him I'd prefer a small stone, or none at all. I would feel foolish wearing such a big rock, especially when it's obvious that he could not afford to buy such a ring. (He's 23 and still in school.)

He says his mother insists because the family has a reputation to uphold and everyone will be watching to see what kind of ring I get. All this makes me sick at my stomach. How do you feel?—F.E.

Dear F.E.: Sick at MY stomach. By all means stick to your principles. If you cave in on this one you'll lose them all from now on.

Rumpus Room

Dear Ann: Two weeks ago a family with two teen-age girls moved into the apartment directly above us. The radio goes on at 7:30 a.m. in one room and the record player starts in another room — about 15 minutes later. Somebody up there plays the piano, too.

The other night I was sure they must be pounding carpet tacks into the floor buy my husband said they were dancing.

I hate to be a complainer but I don't know how much longer we can take it. Would it be best to go to the landlord or shall I speak to the mother of the girls? My sister had the same problem and she went to the landlord. From then on the noise was twice as bad. I'd appreciate your advice.—ASPIRIN HAPPY.

Dear Aspirin Happy: If you haven't welcomed the new family to the building by all means do so. Bring a cake. Make sure they know you are the lady downstairs. After a friendly visit you'll find them far more amenable to suggestion. The adage is old but it still works: "You can catch more flies with honey than with vinegar."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Volunteer Draft Surge Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sustained surge of volunteers has followed President Kennedy's call for a buildup of U.S. armed forces and the announcement of higher draft calls.

Defense Department sources said today a sampling of enlistment trends in widely scattered areas showed there has been no letup in the increased rate that followed the President's speech two weeks ago.

Major emphasis is on the Army which is authorized to add about 133,000 men to build up to over 1 million men.

One of the first efforts will be to train manpower to fill out three present training divisions in the Strategic Army Force—STRAF—then convert those divisions into combat units. The three divisions are the 1st Infantry at Ft. Riley, Kan., the 2nd Infantry at Ft. Benning, Ga., and the 2nd Armored at Ft. Hood, Tex.

A combat infantry division has an authorized strength of 13,700 men, an armored division 14,600. Present permanent strength—cadres of trained men—in those divisions is believed to be less than half of authorized combat strength.

The Defense Department and Army now are completing detailed plans for adding manpower, training men and converting the three STRAF divisions to combat outfits. Then they will be added to the 14 combat divisions now in the Army.

The threat of the draft is spurring voluntary recruiting for all services. Only the Army uses the draft. President Kennedy, in his July 25 nationwide address, said that draft calls might be doubled or tripled. Subsequently, the quota for August, which had been set on July 12 at 8,000, was boosted to 13,000.

Announcement of the September quota is expected within a few days. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said it will be at least 20,000.

Latest volunteer, first-enlistment recruiting figures are for June and those are still an estimate.

The Army estimate is about 12,000, compared with 6,400 for May. However, there is a normal sharp increase annually between May and June which results from the end of school years, when youngsters decide to enlist and their military obligations behind them.

The estimated volunteers for the Air Force in June totaled 11,000, compared with 7,800 in May; the Navy, 11,405 compared with 4,700 and the Marines, 2,643 compared with 1,900.

But the trends now being noticed, since July 25, "are better than they would be seasonally," a Pentagon spokesman said today.

Mrs. Roland Kyser

COLUMBIANA — Mrs. Alice M. Kyser, 59, of RD 2, Columbiana, died suddenly of a heart attack at 12:05 p.m. Monday at her residence.

Born Dec. 17, 1901, in Lisbon, she was the daughter of George and Ella Morris Walter. On July 27, 1926, she married Roland Kyser.

A resident of this area 34 years, she was a member of the Presbyterian Church and the Fort. nightly Club here.

Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mary Louise Kyser at home; two sons, Walter E. of RD 1, Columbiana and George of Salem; and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at the Seederly-Beilhart Funeral Home here. Rev. Harry Scheidmantle of the Presbyterian Church will officiate, with burial in Columbiana Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening.

Eli Vosi

MINERVA — Eli Vosi, 77, of RD 1, Minerva, died at 7 a.m. today at his home following an extended illness.

Born in Romania, he had resided here since 1918, coming from Canton. He and his wife, Mary, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in October, 1960.

He was a retired farmer and a former employee of the Metropolitan Brick Co. here.

Besides his wife, he leaves five daughters, Mrs. George Buta of Salem, Mrs. John Maldoven of Boleit, Miss Grace Vosi of RD 1, Minerva, Mrs. Robert Sampson of Canton, Mrs. Kenmore Fitzgerald of Pomona, Calif.; two sons, Louis E. and John of RD 1, Minerva; a brother, Charlie Vosi of Mapleton; and nine grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. at the Gotschall-Hutchison Funeral Home. Rev. John Philip of St. Theodore Catholic Church in Alliance will officiate, with burial in Pleasant Grove Cemetery near here.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening after 7.

GOP's Morton To Support JFK Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, former Republican national chairman, today threw his support behind President Kennedy's long-range foreign aid program.

Kennedy seeks Treasury borrowing authority to finance a five-year, $8.8-billion loan program for development of struggling new nations.

Morton, in a prepared Senate speech, said the proposal was "identical in principle" with one advocated by former President D. Eisenhower in 1957, for which 21 Republicans now in the Senate voted at the time.

"I see no reason in principle that they should not support the same proposal when made by this administration," he said.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., however, has predicted that 30 to 36 Senate Republicans will vote for an amendment sponsored by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., to require that financing of the loan program come from annual appropriations.

Aiken, in another prepared speech, called the authority to borrow from the Treasury "primarily a grab for power" that would rob Congress of its control over the foreign aid program.

"The President requests Congress to give him authority to bet $9 billion in the game of power politics, with no assurance that it will not be lost," Aiken said.

Texts of the speeches were released in advance but there was no assurance they would be delivered today. Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., after speaking nearly nine hours Monday, expected to talk for at least another eight hours today against Senate confirmation of Lawrence J. O'Connor Jr. as a member of the Federal Power Commission.

A total of $1,187,000,000 of the loan money for the first year is part of this year's $4,326,500,000 foreign aid program on which the Senate hoped to resume debate today, with no votes expected until later in the week.

Administration leaders contended they have enough votes to reject the Byrd amendment by a razor-edge margin. Should the Byrd forces lose, a series of amendments will be proposed to put other congressional controls over the development loan program.

Europe Voices Caution On Talk

Soviet Proposal Also Brings Peace Hopes

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe reacted today to Premier Khrushchev's "let's talk it over" speech with a mixture of caution, skepticism and a willingness to negotiate.

Most British newspapers agreed with Khrushchev that it was time for East-West leaders to sit down at a table and negotiate the pressing issues of Berlin and Germany.

But in France and West Germany, there was caution and some suspicion of Khrushchev's motives. Some newspapers and politicians felt that the Soviet premier had not changed the crisis climate.

"Negotiation in his eyes can be conceived only on the basis of the settlement he envisages for solving the Berlin crisis," said Paris' conservative Figaro.

Despite the urgency of the situation, many newspapers throughout Europe gave top billing to Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov.

Even the Communist party newspapers in London, Rome and Paris considered the space traveler the biggest newsmaker of the day. So did the London Daily Mirror and Daily Herald, and all early editions in Rome and Paris. Copenhagen papers were too preoccupied with Titov to mention his premier editorially.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said Khrushchev had done nothing to reduce East-West tensions. Brandt assailed Khrushchev's statement that self-determination for Germany was just a hypocritical Western slogan. The mayor said the Germans' elementary wish for self-determination cannot be passed off with the art of dialectics.

The London Daily Mail called for a summit meeting with Khrushchev "at the earliest moment to find out what his real intentions are." The London Times said the door on both sides is open to negotiation.

"Mr. K wants recognition for East Germany," said Britain's laborite Daily Herald. "The West wants copper-bottomed guarantees for the freedom of Berlin. Here is surely a basis for talks." Lord Beaverbrook's independent Daily Express also called for bargaining and indicated the West should give Khrushchev the recognition he demands for the Communist East German regime.

The Times compared Khrushchev's speech with President Kennedy's and found striking similarities.

"Both speakers," it said, "used language as tough as any that has been heard since the end of the war, but both came back to the possibility of negotiations."

The liberal Manchester Guardian took the gravest view. "Both sides remain set on their collision courses: and neither will make the first move to end the crisis."

Browns Trade John Roach to Green Bay

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns today traded quarterback John Roach to the Green Bay Packers for an undisclosed draft choice.

Roach, who was the regular quarterback for the St. Louis Cardinals last season, was acquired by the Browns only last month. The Browns gave up end Taz Anderson and halfback Prentice Gault in that trade.

Coach Paul Brown said the deal "was made at this time so we could get concentrated work with the two quarterbacks we are counting on for this season."

"Both Roach and (Len) Dawson are capable, but we have a year's work invested in Dawson, and we are finding that this training season he is looking like the Dawson we were getting a year ago."

The trade to the Green Bay Packers gives the Browns an additional choice in the National Football League draft next winter.

The old City of London, which consists of one square mile, has only 4,900 permanent residents. However, it is London's financial district and some 400,000 people work there during a business day.

a table and negotiate in an honest way. Let's not create hysteria. Let's clear the atmosphere. Let's rely on sense and not on the strength of thermonuclear weapons."

The Soviet premier offered no change in his previous demands which the Western allies have rejected.

He again insisted East Germany must have a peace treaty to achieve complete sovereignty and that the issue of access routes to Berlin would then have to be settled directly with the Communist East German regime, which the West does not recognize.

Khrushchev stressed anew that "we do not intend to infringe upon any lawful interests of the Western powers. Any barring of access to Berlin, any blockade of West Berlin, is entirely out of the question."

Speaking in a moderate tone, Khrushchev said Kennedy displayed common sense in wishing to avoid war but added that expressions of common sense are not enough.

The Soviet Union will "strike a crushing blow at the territory of the United States" and at U.S. overseas bases and America's allies if war breaks out, he warned. He recalled last month's American, British and French notes to Moscow on Berlin.

"Again the Western powers are trying to evade the conclusion of a peace treaty and counterpose to it the idea of the self-determination of the Germans and the reunification of Germany," Khrushchev commented.

Calling self-determination a slogan "constantly on the lips" of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, the premier accused the allies of hypocrisy in proposing it. He said the Western powers had kept down freedom-seeking peoples for centuries and were interfering in the internal affairs of nations all over the world.

"They tried to strangle the Cuban revolution," he said. Khrushchev asserted Adenauer's interpretation of self-determination was to swallow East Germany.

Governor Derides GOP Legislature

Athens, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says the Republicans are the party of the few and not the party of the people, and that their philosophy has been "to help the greedy at the expense of the needy."

The Democratic governor, on the second leg of his statewide stumping tour, spoke at a Democratic ice cream social for about 250 persons at the Hotel Berry-Claxton here Monday night.

He maintained that his party's philosophy is to help the needy, but that the Republican-controlled legislature is defeating that end by cutting back appropriations for such things as mental health, schools, correctional institutions and highways.

In another of his self-billed reports to the people, DiSalle said majority Republicans in the legislature are trying to satisfy certain influential individuals and groups, and indicated that among them are Ohio's public utilities.

He mentioned one bill which he said would have given utility customers a fair chance in the rate bargaining. He said this bill never got out of committee because the GOP members wouldn't give it enough votes.

DiSalle said total appropriations for programs such as aid to the aged and aid to dependent children look good on the surface, but that when the money is divided among the many recipients the amount per person is very small.

As a result of appropriation cutbacks, he said, old age pensioners are getting only $2.21 a day and aid for dependent children amount to only $1 a day.

Earlier Monday night, the governor attended a dinner at Ohio University here honoring Julius M. Udoch, Nigerian ambassador to the United Nations.

He also addressed a Rotary Club luncheon in Portsmouth Monday, and toured Shawnee State Forest near there and the Portsmouth Receiving Hospital.

He told the Rotarians that whether Shawnee Forest gets a couple of proposed lakes hinges on whether the legislature passes a once-defeated capital improvements bill when the governor calls lawmakers back into special session after Labor Day.

er because his pet project is not included in it," Taylor remarked. "It (the commission's approval of the charter) ought to be unanimous."

Kendall remarked, "All of us have things in here that we don't wholeheartedly agree with. However, I don't believe any of us should vote against the whole package just because of one or two things."

"This is a question of how badly do we need the charter," Kendall added. He said he believes Salem needs it too much to allow one or two items to drag down the entire charter.

"None of us should be so selfish that we refuse to negotiate," Kaplan added.

The Charter Commission continued last night to go over the 42-page rough working draft of the proposed charter, checking sections which need further attention.

These sections will be brought up again at the next regularly scheduled meeting which is 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Council Chambers of City Hall.

Proposal

on what the West's "lawful interests" in Berlin are.

Khrushchev has made plain that under his proposal treaty the West must seek its access to West Berlin from the East German regime, which the West does not recognize and which has threatened to shut down Western activities in the city.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Khrushchev appeared to be talking "in the language of both war and peace."

"It is to be devoutly hoped that, unlike the great Russian novel of that title, the balance this time is on the side of peace," Mansfield said.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the assistant Republican leader, said he felt the speech had a belligerent tone.

"If, God forbid, war should come, Khrushchev will be the aggressor. He knows it and the world knows it," Kuchel said.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., said he believes the Khrushchev statements "open the way for negotiations" despite the threats the Soviet premier made.

Game not called on account of darkness

Great banks of lights in the ball park do more than light up a game.

They symbolize the tremendous abundance of electric power that gives America more time for enjoyment... and more time for accomplishment.

Most of this power comes from the investor-owned electric light and power companies.

They have made America the world's greatest electric nation, with so much electricity that we almost take it for granted, like the air we breathe.

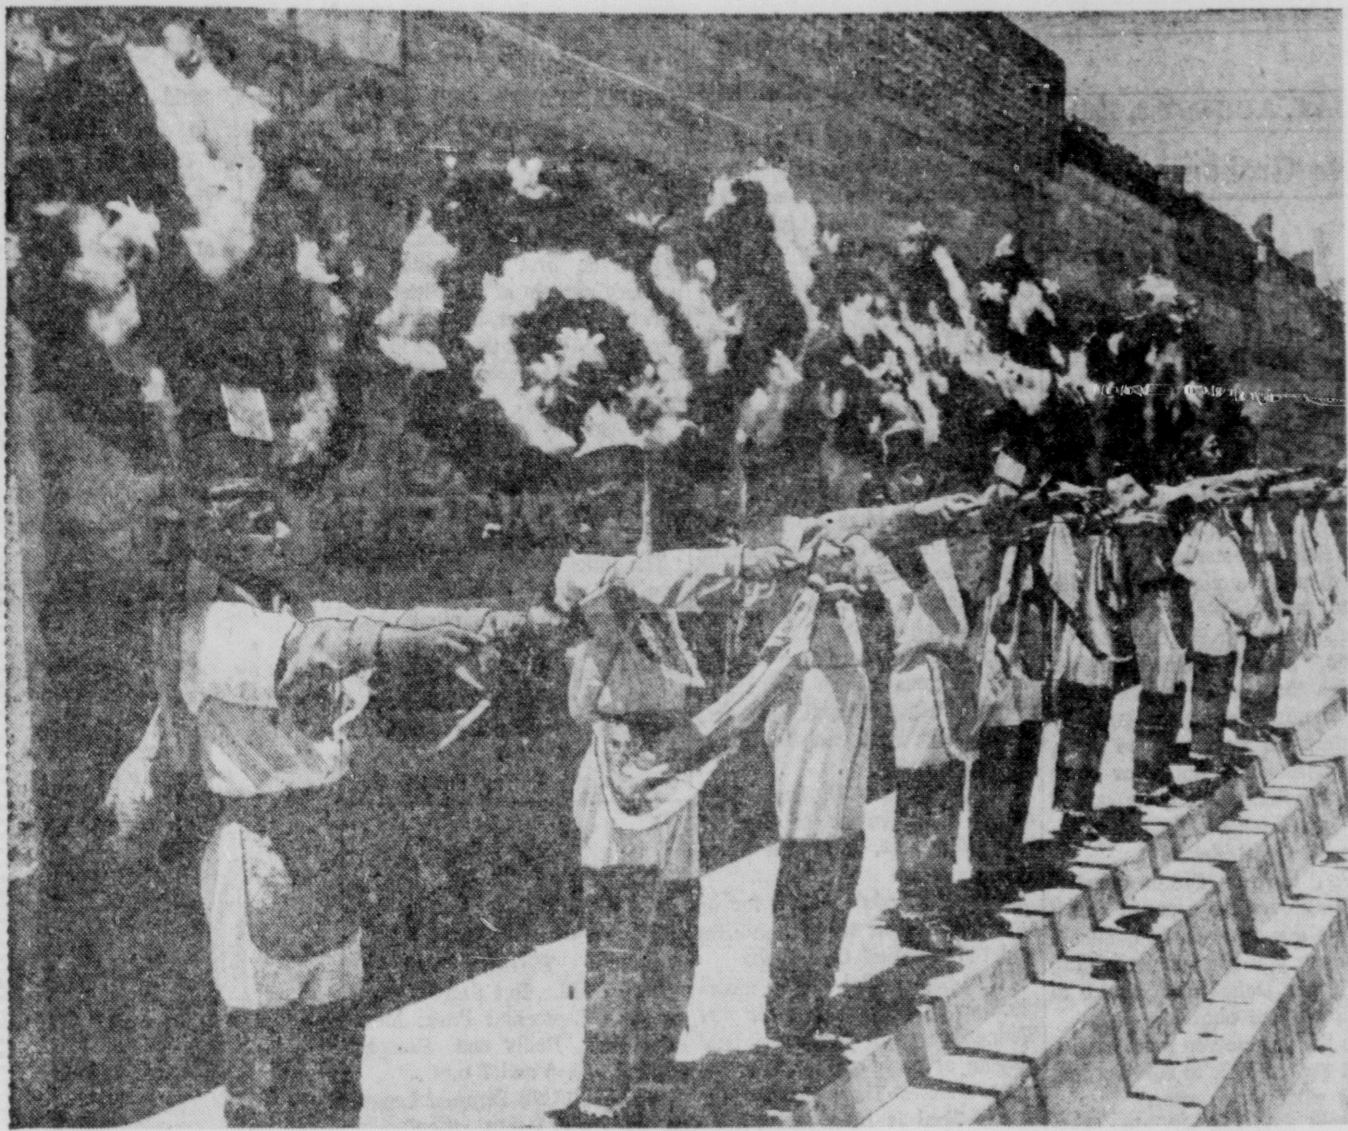

The investor-owned electric companies serve 4 out of 5 homes and businesses... double their supply of power each 10 years... always stay ahead of needs.

By 1970, for example, America will need twice as much power for new jobs, homes and businesses—and investor-owned companies like this one will be prepared to supply it.

They have experience and capability that the nation can rely on to Keep America Powerful.

Stepanic's Tavern Trips Shaffer Ford 8-2 In Tourney

Battles Old Dutch For Title Tonight

Stepanic's Tavern gained 'sweet revenge' as it eliminated Shaffer Ford by a score of 8-2 in the finals of the losers bracket Monday at Kelley Park and gives the winners a shot at the Columbiana County Softball championship.

Early in the tournament Shaffer Ford handed Stepanic's an 8-3 setback and knocked the Tavern nine into the losers bracket. This was a neat victory to take from Shaffer Ford as all the marbles now await Stepanic's.

Stepanic's Tavern will tangle with Class AA league-leader Old Dutch tonight at 8 p.m. for the tourney championship. Old Dutch has put together four straight wins in tournament play while Stepanic's has had to play seven games, posting a 6-1 mark.

Hot Stove Leagues

E. W. Bliss dumped Greenford, 2-0 in Class E play behind the no-hit, no-run pitching of Hilton Moffett in one of nine Hot Stove League games played Monday.

In other action Ailes Insurance lost a narrow 5-4 tilt to Stark's Colonial and the Dairy Isle tripped Hobbycraft, 6-4 in Class H; Salem Stamping eked out a 3-2 win over Youngstown Kitchens and Eljer blanked Fisher News, 6-0 in Class FF encounters; in Class G play Petrucci's nipped the K of C, 14-13.

CLASS E BATTLES saw the Salem VFW down CIO 4022 of Leetonia 7-5; Famous Market upend CIO 3816, 7-2 and CIO 3372 defeat Columbiana Enterprise, 5-4.

Bliss and Greenford were locked in a pitchers duel between Moffett and Cook for four innings before singles by Phillips and Keeler and a sacrifice by Sutter produced two runs for Bliss.

Moffett issued only two walks in blanking Greenford and registered 13 strike outs. He faced only 21 Greenford batters in the six-inning tilt.

Ailes Insurance absorbed its second loss in 10 starts and fell one full game behind league-leading Home Furniture which sports a 9-1 record.

Plum Is Key Man, But Brown Just Can't Forget Otto Graham

By FRITZ HOWELL Associated Press Sports Writer HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Coach Paul E. Brown of the Cleveland Browns is looking for a superlative quarterback—and he figures he's found a way to get one.

Brown just can't forget Otto Graham, the pass-master who led his team to four straight All-America Conference championships, six straight Eastern Conference titles and three world crowns in the National Football League.

Since Otto's departure after the 1955 campaign, Brown has had such luminaries as George Ratterman, Vito Parilli, Tom O'Connell, Jim Ninowski, Len Dawson and Milt Plum firing the football.

Bliss, IM Suffer Defeats

The Alliance Amvets topped Bliss, 7-1 in a Class A make-up game and Herron Transfer jolted Industrial Mining, 8-2 in a Class AA make-up encounter in action at Kelley Park Monday.

The Amvets took a 1-0 lead in the first frame and increased it to 4-1 in the second on doubles by Common and Jerry Jeffries and hits by Kragill and Floyd Wartult.

Bliss chalked up its lone tally in the second inning on safeties by Hough, Maag and Chamberlain.

Pacing the Amvets attack were Krabill and Wartult with three hits in four trips apiece.

Cleveland Browns Keep Looking For A Superlative Quarterback

By FRITZ HOWELL Associated Press Sports Writer HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Coach Paul E. Brown of the Cleveland Browns is looking for a superlative quarterback—and he figures he's found a way to get one.

Graham, in 10 seasons, completed 1,464 of 2,626 passes for 23,584 yards and 174 touchdowns. In four years Plum has completed 450 of 781 for 6,498 yards and 48 touchdowns.

"Plum has had three straight cracks at it, but has never quite gotten us there," Brown said. "And he's the guy who must do it. We have a fine supporting cast for him, but he's the key. He's studious and he's had the time to develop, and we feel he has to take us all the way this year if he's ever to do it."

Kirkland Off And Winging To Fine Year

CLEVELAND (AP) — Willie Kirkland had a rough time getting started in the American League after coming to the Cleveland Indians from the San Francisco Giants, but he has been hitting .315 since July 1. He has 22 home runs and 63 runs batted in.

The 22 homers equal his one season high in the majors, and the Tribe rightfielder will be trying to add to his slugging record when the Indians meet the Washington Senators here tonight in the opener of a two-game series.

South Banks On Halfbacks In 'Star' Tilt

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Two fleet halfbacks carry much of the South's hopes of breaking the North's three-game victory streak in the 16th annual Ohio North-South All-Star High School Football game here Friday night.

They are Tom Fugate of Springfield South and Tim Vaughn of Troy.

Vaughn, 185 pounds, scored 230 pounds as a senior last year when Troy finished with a 9-1 record. He is an elusive runner and tacklers find him hard to handle.

Fugate, a 163-pounder, registered 118 points last season and 132 in his junior year. In addition to his running ability, he is a capable pass receiver and scored five of his touchdowns last year that way.

Two northerners have injuries and may be used sparingly against the Rebels.

Ken Maglicic, 230-pound Cleveland St. Joseph star, has been out of action since last Thursday because of a knee injury and has been ordered to refrain from any contact work for the rest of the week.

Vince Leskosky Paces Golfers

Fires 61 In Public Links Championship

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Vince Leskosky, Salem professional, paced his team to win the best-ball as Ohio's 28th Public Links Golf Championship got under way Monday.

The opening pro-amateur attracted 236 entrants. Leskosky and amateurs Bob Lilko, Jack Valicenti and Robert Kish of Youngstown scored an 11 under par 61 over the Elms Country Club par 72 course. The first prize was worth $440 to Leskosky.

Professional Mike Kosar of Akron and amateurs Courtney Smith, Byron Boyd and Evan Schultz of North Canton took second place in the best-ball with a 62.

Top amateur score was a 69 by Andy Holmes of Toledo. Harry Foster of Massillon and Jim Gantz of Cuyahoga Falls each had 69s to lead the pros.

Today's schedule called for an amateur-amateur at both the Elms and the Riceland Golf Club.

Th 72-hole medal - play championship officially gets under way Wednesday with half the field playing at each course. They reverse courses Thursday and the 36-hole final is scheduled Friday at the Elms.

Nominations For Buckeye Handicap Close on Saturday

CLEVELAND — Although nominations for the rich Buckeye Handicap don't officially close until midnight Saturday, the race is already shaping up as one of the most competitive in Ohio racing history.

The $20,000 added money race will be staged at Thistledown on Saturday, August 19th. It is for three-year-olds and upward at a distance of one mile and one eighth.

There are a number of horses already stable at Thistledown which are confirmed candidates.

These include Lady LaRue, runner-up in last year's Handicap; Hurry Home, the stalwart ace of the Walnut Hill Farms, and winner of the Lake Erie Handicap last week; Festival King from C. B. Fischback's stables, and several others.

It is believed definite that Hy-mint, the veteran handicap star of the L and K stable, and winner of last year's race, will also return; it is also believed that Find, winner of the 1953 Ohio Derby will be nominated.

If Find should be nominated, there is a strong belief that the 11-year-old gelding will compete. He needs only $13,000 to become horse racing's all time money winning gelding. Find has won slightly more than $800,000 in his career.

It is also rumored that Bruno Ferrari, owner of the Walnut Hill Farm may send in another of his aces to compete as an entry with

Buc Shortstop Batting .256

Dick Groat Having His Troubles This Season

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dick Groat, the National League batting champion and most valuable player of 1960, is just another shortstop "scratching and trying to get along," this season.

For the first time since the peppery captain of the Pittsburgh Pirates came out of Duke University and joined the Bucs in 1952 the game has become a struggle instead of a joy.

"Everybody wants to know what's the matter," Groat said today. "I can't begin to tell them. I don't know. If I did I would do something about it."

The infielder who won the batting title with a .325 average last year, has been poking along about 75 points under that mark this season and it's reached the state where he admittedly "becomes overwhelmed when I get two hits in a game."

Musial Hits 440th Homer; Idle Tigers Slip Three Games Back

Yankees Win on Berra's Clout; Reds Fall to 2nd; Bucs Victors

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris? Forget the kids. The home run sluggers of the moment are Stan Musial and Yogi Berra, a couple of old guys who may be on the way out, but who refuse to go quietly.

It was Berra, now 35 and put out to pasture, you might say, in left field, who broke up a tie with a home run as the New York Yankees beat the Los Angeles Angels 4-1 Monday night. That gave the Yankees a five-game streak and a three-game lead, their biggest bulge yet, over idle Detroit in the American League race.

Musial's Homer Wins Game

And it was Musial, still The Man at 40, who socked a three-run homer that boosted St. Louis to a 5-1 victory over Cincinnati and dropped the second-place Reds .006 percentage points behind the idle Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League scrap.

Berra's shot was his 14th of the season. Musial's was No. 11. Between them they have little more than half the total of either Mantle (43) or Maris (41) as the two Yankee outfielders shoot for Babe Ruth's long elusive record of 60. Musial's, however, was the 440th of his 20-year career — a total topped only by Ruth, Jimmy Fox, Ted Williams, Mel Ott and Lou Gehrig, and second to Ott's 511 in National League history.

Yogi's was the 332nd of a 16-year career with the Yanks, most of it spent behind the plate. It broke a tie with Hall of Famer Hank Greenberg for 14th place on the all-time list. Only Ruth, Fox, Williams, Gehrig, Mantle and Joe DiMaggio have hit more in the AL.

Pirates Beat Phillies

In other games on Monday's slack schedule, Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 3-1 in the NL, while Baltimore defeated Kansas City 5-4 and Boston took a two-night pair from Minnesota, both by 5-4, in the only other AL games.

Mantle and Maris were held to one hit each, and got just one ball past the pitcher's mound between them against losing right-hander Ken McBride (9-8). But even with singles they were big guys for the Yanks—next to Berra. Maris caught the Angels by surprise with a neat, two-out bunt that scored a run and made it 1-0 in the third inning. Maris and Mick then paired for the insurance runs in the eighth — when Maris walked and scored as Mantle's single got past center fielder Ken Hunt for an error. Mick came in on a wild pitch.

Bud Daley (9-15) became the first southpaw to go the distance against the Angels since May 21 and broke a personal losing skid at five games by holding Los Angeles to six hits all singles.

Musial's sixth-inning shot, followed a hit batter and a sacrifice bunt by Bill White that went for a hit when the Reds failed to cover first base, giving the Cards a 4-1 bulge. They breezed all the way, starting with a second-inning homer by Carl Sawatski off Ken Johnson (2-1) while right-hander Larry Jackson (8-8) won his fifth in a row. The Reds had seven hits, but were shut out until they got an unearned run in the eighth.

Right-hander Bob Friend (11-13) making his first start since suffering an ankle injury last Wednesday, beat Philadelphia with a four-hitter. It was the 10th straight loss and 15th defeat in 16 games for the Phils, who scored in the sixth on Ruben Amaro's triple and a sacrifice fly by Johnny Callison. Singles by Bill Mazeroski and Bill Virdon scored the Buc's clincher in the second off John Buzhardt (3-12).

Jackie Brandt drove in Baltimore's last three runs, putting it away with a two-run homer in the seventh inning. Jim Gentile also hit a home run for the Orioles, setting a club record with his 31st. Chuck Estrada (9-6) was the winner, with relief help, and Art Ditmer (2-7) the loser.

The Red Sox won the opener on Carl Yastrzemski's two-out single in the ninth, and pinch-hitter Vic Wertz bagged the nightcap with a two-out single in the eighth. Don Schwall (13-2) won the second game — for his seventh straight success, two shy of the rookie record in the AL. Mike Fornieles won the opener with five innings of two-hit relief. Don Lee (3-3) and Pete Ramos (8-13) were the losers. The Twins have lost eight in a row, the last five by one run.

QUESTIONS-ANSWERS

Q—Did the ancient Mayas have an alphabet comparable to our own?
A—No. Their written language consisted of hieroglyphics or picture writing.
Q—What proportion of silver does German silver contain?
A—None. It is an alloy of copper, nickel, and zinc.
Q—On what occasion did Congress first use its power to declare war?
A—The War of 1812.

The Doctor Says

Attack Tumors: Surgery, Watchful Waiting

Q—My doctor discovered a fibroid tumor of my uterus and gave me the choice of X-ray treatment or operation. Which is preferable? I am 35 and hate to think of having to take shots the rest of my life.

A—If you were nearer to your natural menopause and as free from symptoms and discomforts as your letter elsewhere suggests, I would suggest a course of "watchful waiting" or "skillful neglect" in the hope that the fibroids might shrink appreciably as they often do at the time of the "change." However, at 35, you are best advised to choose surgery.

This permits your surgeon to see, remove and submit for microscopic examination, the tumor or tissue involved. It also spares your ovaries thus saving you the effects produced by an artificially induced menopause. And, after operation, you will suffer no more side effects than you would have experienced from removal of an appendix or an impacted tooth.

Q—I am 19 and getting married next year. I'm big in build and have big bones but my busts are small. They just don't seem to grow. I don't think I'd ever be able to nurse a baby and I want very much to have children and take good care of them.

Then, too, when I get married, I'm afraid I'll feel inferior before my husband. Are there gland shots or creams or vitamin pills that will help my busts to grow?

And how about these operations I read about?

A—There are neither vitamins nor gland shots that stimulate breast growth appreciably. And you need not fear about your ability to nurse your child. Nature will provide for that in a manner that surpasses human endeavors. As to the operation called augmentation mammoplasty, you would be most ill-advised to submit to it under any circumstances. The operation involves implantation of a synthetic spongy material between breast and chest wall. If the implant does not become extruded through infection (since it is composed of foreign material); and if it does not sag, particularly after you have completed nursing your expected child or children; it may harden as it shrinks.

Perhaps you'd better settle for an inferiority complex. Or, better still, learn to regard your breasts as functioning organs, not ornaments.

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

East Goshen

DEATH STALKS THREE TOTS — Three of these attractive children of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Jenney of Hormosa, S.D. have dread cystic fibrosis, for which there is no known cure. From left are Mrs. Jenney, holding Teddy James, two months; Twyla Rae, 4; Terrence, 2, and Mr. Jenney, holding Tammy Kay, 3, and 14-month-old Timothy Lee. Doctors say Teddy, Tammy and Timothy all have the malady, usually fatal before 25. The parents, paying out more than $25 weekly for medicine, say they live only in hope a cure will somehow be found — and in time.

Husband-Pleasing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Lady, would you like to get on better terms with your husband?

This is the goal of many wives. But they don't know how to set out to charm that favorite beast in their lives.

Husband-pleasing has become a vanishing feminine art in many a U.S. home. It has too often been replaced by husband-baiting which some wives for some reason find more exciting.

But to get a husband to eat out of your hand, so to speak, all you have to do is to butter him up like a piece of toast. His little ego needs endless bolstering.

A husband usually thinks of life as a conspiracy against him. He feels everybody from the bus driver to his employer takes him for granted. What he secretly yearns for is someone who doesn't take him for granted—but instead goes to the trouble of making him feel important.

You can be that one. Here are a few sample sentences of the kind that are most likely to turn him into your loving little moon calf:

"Don't get up, Fred. I'll find some matches. I just love to light your cigars for you."

"How can I blame that little blonde for trying to monopolize you at the cocktail party? After all, you were the only real human in the room."

"Now just lie there on the sofa and relax. Here, let me take off your shoes for you. See, I brought your slippers."

"I don't think it's fat. A lot of men thicken a bit and get more muscular as they grow older."

"Call me a fool if you want to, Fred, but I think it's beginning to grow back in again—right there on top."

"Well, maybe it is a little thin—but a man with a high forehead always looks more intellectual."

"A fur coat? In heaven's name what would I want with a fur coat? They make a girl look so bulky."

"No, I don't want to go along on your fishing trip. I think you'll have more fun with the fellows. Besides, I don't believe in wives competing with their husbands, even in sports."

"Just because I'm on a diet doesn't mean you have to go on one. You have the steak and potatoes. I'll have the leftover tuna salad."

"You paid for the first honeymoon. Let me pay for the second. I've saved enough for it from my household budget."

"I wouldn't trade husbands with any woman in the world. It sure was my lucky day when you married poor dumb little old me."

GAS AIR CONDITIONING

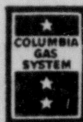

for their homes. Most everyone heats with GAS and is familiar with its economies and performance. So, when people learn about economical, complete-home, GAS air conditioning, they want it!

Every room in your home can be cool, regardless of simmering summer temperatures. You can sleep comfortably... cook and bake in relaxed coolness... have fresh, cool air throughout the house for comfort and health. Comes winter and your GAS cooling system readily converts to heating... filtered, fresh-air GAS heating that keeps the whole house snug and clean for your comfort.

You can have a GAS add-on central air conditioning unit installed in your present forced air heating system, probably using the existing furnace ductwork for cooling. In either case, whole-house GAS air conditioning costs less than you might think.

If you are planning to buy or build a new home or to remodel your present home, find out about GAS air conditioning. The installation costs of a central GAS heating-cooling system can be financed through the Gas Company, and you can make the payments right along with your regular gas bill. Call your Gas Company for full information.
